Jifari ibn Medihr al'Din

A High Maftir of the Biswat Aref, Jifari specializes in the study and purging of magical artifacts. He takes his position as an inquisitor very seriously, but is not so overcome with zeal that he will ignore logic when presented with counter arguments. Jifari adheres strictly to the traditional caste system and believes the rigid church hierarchy is just an extension of that structure.

Abdimithustra ibn Kibaba al'Din

Abdim is a relatively recent graduate of the seminary and has been tasked with continuing the conversion of Kibaba, a small village that has proven unusually difficult to bring into the fold due to the agreement with Ar-Hedar to the north. Abdim is extremely eager to prove himself as more than just another desk jockey from the city.

Dento Chomolar Batraharibeta

A dwarf from a foreign clan, Dento is a historian of dwarven history who discovered the Seekers of the Way on his journeys and felt the urge to convert. He now travels both to continue his search for pre-Ashuadi dwarven history as well as complete a pilgrimage of faith.
